

Acknowledgments

THIS book is indebted to all who have contributed to the world literature on cleft surgery. Each contributor has been given not only as a reference but has been assigned his or her paragraph, page or chapter and, when possible, a personal characterization, an anecdote or an extracurricular activity has been added. Whenever history is written, truth must be the first essential, insuring accuracy of description and dates. Personal detail then adds its touch of color giving greater insight into the characters, enabling better understanding of their work and evaluation of their contributions.

There are those who deserve special acknowledgments because of their contributions toward the actual construction of this book.

First, a very personal thanks is extended to William Dean Warren, Chairman of the Department of Surgery, University of Miami School of Medicine 1964–1969; Emanuel M. Papper, Vice President of Medical Affairs and Dean of the University of Miami School of Medicine, and Robert Zeppa, present Chairman of the Department of Surgery, University of Miami School of Medicine.

Gratitude is expressed to the hospitals where the major portion of the surgery has been performed: Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami; Variety Children's Hospital, Miami; St. Joseph's Hospital, Asheville, North Carolina; Kingston Public Hospital, Children's Hospital and University Hospital of the West Indies, Kingston, Jamaica; and Princess Margaret Hospital, Nassau, Bahamas.

Special acknowledgments are extended to:

The secretaries who have recalled patients, written letters and typed and typed and typed: Anne Cohen, Connie Hard, Camille McDonald, Nancy Pries, Lesley Cook, Sandy Kramer, and Marilyn Cohen who has, in addition, also arranged the references and collected permissions.

The photographers who have recorded the original deformities, the operative stages and the postoperative results: U.S. Marine George Brusseau, and in Miami, John Madge, James Fletcher, Kenneth Peterson and Donald Barth, and for the beautiful models of the normal, free-lance artistic photographer Hamilton Millard.

Certain celebrities for their kind permission to use photographic studies of their normal features which have been used as ideal models and goals in the correction of the cleft deformities: Robert Wagner, Camilla Sparv, Brenda Sykes and Danielle de Metz.

The illustrators who are to be commended not only for their lovely artistic work but for their patience with the author who repeatedly requested late changes even after the ink had dried, as operations were modified again and again: Leona Allison Katharine Payne, Evelyn Dyer, Shirley Durkee, Jayne Pennington, Ronald W. Pigott, F.R.C.S. and Arnold Arem, M.D.

All my residents and fellows for their interest, criticism, contributions and patience with special acknowledgment to several who, in one way or another, have given more of their time and thought: Malcolm Dean, Tony Watson, Mark Mandel, Tony Wolfe, Les Hovey, Eugene Tanski, Daniel Marchac, Wolf Losken, Gaston Schwarz and Kurt Schneider.

The publishers Little, Brown and Company of Boston and especially their medical editor Fred Belliveau, art director Clifton Gaskill and copyediting supervisor Robert Davis for their insight, patience, craftsmanship and dedication toward an absolutely first-class production. Mrs. Julia Stair for copyediting the manuscript and Mrs. Betty Herr Hallinger for preparing the index.

Contributors for their faith backed by generous gifts which have made possible the presentation of results in color: Mrs. Ann Light, Mrs. Mary Lou Maytag, Mr. Helmut Horten, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wallace, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Bennett.

Ethicon Company for the continued excellence of their fine suture material which has made stitching a pleasure.

Special medical libraries for their extensive bibliographic reference assistance, particularly Mildred Langner and Raissa Maurin of the Louis Calder Memorial Library, University of Miami School of Medicine, occasionally the Jerome P. Webster Library and particularly Walter Garst whose remarkable personal collection of original plastic surgery books and manuscripts has been made available for first-hand referral. Also the libraries of the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh and Dublin, and especially the Royal College of Surgeons, London, where I spent many hours researching early work of the British surgical pioneers.

Special journals and books for their generous permission to reuse specific portions of text, illustrations and photographs of cases to retrace the history of the evolution of this surgery: Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, Williams & Wilkins Co.; British Journal of Plastic Surgery, E. & S. Livingstone, Ltd.; Cleft Palate Journal, Waverly Press; Southern Medical Journal, Southern Medical Association; Scandinavian Journal of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, Almqvist & Wiksell; Acta Chirurgiae Plasticae, Czechoslovak Medical Press; American Journal of Surgery, Dundonnelley Publishing Corp.; Surgery, Gynecology & Obstetrics; Franklin H. Martin Memorial Foundation; Annales de Chirurgie Plastique, L'Expansion Scientifique Française; Journal of the American Medical Association, Archives of Otolaryngology, The American Medical Association; and such books as Stark's Cleft Palate, Hoeber Medical Division, Harper & Row; Converse's Reconstructive Plastic Surgery, W. B. Saunders Co.; Gillies and Millard's Principles and Art of Plastic Surgery, Little, Brown and Company; Grabb, Rosenstein and Bzoch's Cleft Lip and Palate, Little, Brown and Company; and Die Präsidenten Der Deutschen Gesellschaft Fur Chirurgie 1872-1972, Deutsche Gesellschaft fur Chirurgie.

Finally, appreciation is extended to the President and Fellows of Harvard College, Cambridge, Massachusetts, for permission to use Will Commerford's drawing of Harvard Medical School; to the President and Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England for permission to use Howard Barron's portrait of Sir Harold Gillies and to the Warner Bros. Studios, Burbank, California, for Bugs Bunny, the most mischievous hare.
